PRESS:

Rus-WORLD: Well, gee. Now that Italy's out, the worst I can do is 4th place(most probably, anyway).

George-GM: If the game ends this turn - it sure didn't live up to its name.

GM-ALL: Glad you mentioned that, George. The DIPLOMACY games in TGZ are named after famous battles. The MARATHON was a battle fought between the Athenians and the Persians in 490 BC. The Athenians, outnumbered two to one, fought, and defeated the Persians at the bay of Marathon, about 25 miles east of Athens, on the coast of the Aegean Sea.

George-Stan: You NMR'd? Shame on You.

George-Derek: Don't worry, you will not join Italy - You have a place etched in History in this game.

FALL 1986 moves are due no later than APRIL 19, 1986.

GM - Lex Lambert, James R. Early, and Jim McCarthy are each charged with an NMR this turn. Because I believe all three are NMRing out of play, I am going to call for standbys immediately, rather than wait for a second NMR. If any of the above players do submit moves next turn, I will permit them to remain in the game, but if they do not respond, then the standby orders will be used and the standby players will take their place. For Austria, I am not calling a standby since there are no units remaining. Would Derek Daniels, Wright 3-205, Bloomington IN 47406, please submit standby orders for Germany? Would Glenn Freund, 2133 Algonquin Dr., Westfield NJ 07090, please submit standby orders for England?

This exhausts my standby list. Once again, I call for more standbys.

PRESS:

Rus-Ita: Balkans? What Balkans? Or do you mean Vulcans?

Turkey-Russia: So, I believed you. So, you lied. So, I had nothing to lose. So, this game is boring.

Constantinople: Apathy runs amok as the turkish citizens ignore the approaching Russians and Italians and enjoy their bath houses.

(F EAS-SMY): Oops, we forgot our towels; we're coming back.

1903 FALL MOVES ARE DUE NO LATER THAN April 19, 1986.

victories against the wily South Africans. "It is my great hope that apartheid can finally be eliminated from this planet. It's injustices have gone on far too long."

General Secretary Daniels - Fogbotham: Upon examining the Alaskan Brainboxes Corp., I see your 'state of the art' computers weren't as impressive as I had hoped. I suppose I shall have to examine Nebraskan Brainboxes, Texan Brainboxes, and Chicagoan Brainboxes to see if any of them are of a better quality. Do you mind if I bring a few million armed to the teeth bodyguards with me?

General Secretary Daniels - President Nelson: I would like to re-open territorial boundary talks concerning South East Asia with you. I am ready at your earliest convenience.

TASS - General Secretary Daniels would like to personally welcome the Phillipine people into the ever expanding Soviet protectorate. "I am relieved that the new Phillipine President has asked us to investigate the reported vote fraud." The new President also was reported to be seeking long-term assistance from the motherland.

EGY to USA: I understand that Russia wishes to try out a new 5 year plan on Detroit. This is all fine, but I have not figured out who they will sell the cars to as much of the U.S. is radioactive wasteland (unless they are sold as an American export to Russia). P.S. Does your furniture's warrenty cover hard radiation?

EGY to SAF: The armies of the Caliph moved south into Africa to spread the word of Mohammed to the unbelievers. Besides, the troops were in need of a little action.

THE Spring 2106 moves ARE DUE NO LATER THAN April 19, 1986.

LORD HARRISON BURKE, FALL 1836

NOTE: all items in this column are RUMOR, therefore they subject to error. No piece of information may be considered accurate until published by the explorer upon return Europe.

--- IN AFRICA

KUDZU PARAQUETTE arrives in Brass and prepares to explore the interior of the African continent. Kudzu has been seen wandering about the city of Brass in his long green coat, with parrot on his shoulder, but little is known of his activities or his plans, concerning his task. The work of bringing bon-bons to primitive peoples, throughout the world is serious business and should not be taken lightly. He knows that he must take his time and plan his expedition well. A successful expedition is 90% planning, 10% luck and 60% bon-bons.

DAVID CROCHIT spends this turn looking for a "critter" to kill, knowing that the veldt is a good place to find one. "Davey" is disappointed, when he is unable to find a "critter" to kill. He wanders what is happening to the world, when you can not even find a b'ar to wrestle." "Davey" can move on next turn to search Africa to find "wild Critters" to be saved. His hunters provide the expedition with 2 rations.

VASCO de SECTAMI discovers a cache by the river contenting a canoe, 10 gifts and a musket. Vasco spends this turn pondering his fate and wondering what to do next. He dreams of finding an undiscovered village so he can teach the Ogoue Newton-John song, "Let's get Physical" to the maidens. His hunters obtain three rations each.

MR. RA MBO does what a man has to do. He moves in direction 2 into hex 496, which is a veldt hex. He confronts the chief of Batwa tribe and his 30 warriors with a challenge to fight in a 15 round fight or a hockey game, which ever is the custom of the tribe to express violence, in a manly way. Ra gives the chief a large gem to secure the chief's friendship and the rights to the fight. Ra is carrying 97 gifts in gems, which he use to from an expedition. He gains the right to trade with tribe next turn. Askaris will sign on for 1 gift each, bearers want 3 gifts and guides want 6 gifts. One gift will obtain 6 rations. Ra may organize and preach to the tribe next turn.

THE REVEREND RUFUS BEAUEGARD FIREFLY continues his quest to find the Elephants' Graveyard, which he believes to be to the west of him. Rufus orders his expedition west and moves into hex 271, which is a jungle mountain hex. The highest peaks are 11,200 ft. high. Unable to find the elephants' graveyard this turn he knows that he will find it next time. He dreams the wealth that all ivory will bring him hunters provide the expedition with 2 rations each.

ALFRED H. MCGUFFIN remembering that he is not Lou Grant, decides that he does not have to give a sermon to the tribe. He moves on, after buying back two camels from the tribe. His expedition moves in direction 3 into hex 226. He discovers that hex 226 is a jungle hex with nothing of interest. His hunters obtain 2 rations each.

LADY CAROLINE NELSON is overjoyed to be back in the Cape Colony. Before moving on she caches 42 rations, and 25 gifts in hex 643. She, also, dismisses 4 bearers and lets her pack animals loose. She moves towards Port Elizabeth. She moves in direction 3 into hex 653, which is a published mountain hex and then in direction 5 into hex 661, which is a published mountain hex.

ORTE'GO de DAGO heads northeast believing that he will soon be the first man to make an epic crossing of Africa. He moves in direction 1 into 538, which is a lake. Finding no natives and having no canoes he must retreat back to hex 553. Unable to obtain enough rations his expedition brings to starve in the desert. To prevent total collapse of his expedition, he dismisses 19 askaris. He knows that he will soon find his way across Africa, adding an epic crossing to list of exploits.

PROFESSOR JOSEPH R. O'CONNELL moves his expedition in direction 2 into hex 110, which he discovers is a jungle hex. It seems that witless babblings; "no diamonds, months from civilization, the heat, the flies, worthless used bearers, my arthritis, my malaria, and murderous heathens everywhere..." are prophetic. He is confronted by 72 warriors of the Nube tribe, who misunderstand his open friendly approach and attack. O'Connell escapes with a musket, nine rations and one askari.

ROBERT ROBERT leaves Capetown heads north. His expedition moves in direction 6 into hex 666, a published veldt hex and in direction 1 into hex 658, a published mountain hex. He stops in this hex to trade with the locals, whom convinces to trade him horses at the cost of five gifts each.

ROBERT ROBERT decides to move on, after caching 3 gifts and 7 rations in hex 658. Robert finds the residents of the Cape Colony too booring for his tastes. He moves in direction 1 into hex 650, a published mountain hex, then in direction 2 into hex 651, a published mountain hex. He continues in direction 2 into hex 652, published mountain hex and finally he move in 1 into hex 643, which is a veldt hex at the junction of the Vaal and Orange Rivers. His hunters provide the expedition with 2 rations each.

COLONEL LLEWELLYN BALDERDASH moves in direction 6, into hex 230. Hex 230 is a veldt hex contian no strange things. He teaches his Askaris to play "Willie the Keeper" on the saxophone, but the noise drives away any game. There is nothing but veldt, endless veldt, of which Balderdash hopes to make a hat or cover a pool table.

ARCHBISHOP MEETS KIRK LEADERS AS TAX STRIKES SPREAD IN SCOTLAND
- IRISH BARONET SACKS VILLANUEVA - HENDON VICTORIOUS IN IRELAND -
STRANGE TALES ACCOMPANY CARIBBEAN FLEET

Amid growing resistance to his ecclesiastick reforms, Archbishop Laud met with Presbyterian leaders at Berwick Castle. The Scots have demanded the ouster of Scots Secretary Sir Herbert Hambone from the Privy Council in return for an end to tax refusals protesting the new Prayer Book. Kirk leaders are also seeking a ban on the Anglican liturgy throughout Scotland. Court sources say Laud will, at the September meeting of the Privy Council, present a compromise arrangement whereby a Presbyterian would be named Scots Secretary and the Prayer Book made optional in Scotland. Secretary Hambone was vacationing on the Continent and could not be reached for comment.

And from the Continent comes word that Britain's own "Fighting Fitz" O'Connor was successful in storming Villanueva Castle, taking a vast amount of booty. O'Connor has been decorated by Count Carnesecca and the Doge of Venice, as well as being made a Knight of Malta by the Pope, where the following exchange was reported:

Pope: Where are you from, my son?

O'Connor: Ireland, Holy Father.

Pope: And where is Ireland, my son?

A peerage is said to await the conqueror upon his return to London, which may not be immediately. Ioun Thomasklis, Exarch of Georgiopolous is said to be recruiting O'Connor to lead an attack on Syracuse.

Also victorious was Irish Lord Deputy Sir Miles Hendon, who captured 700 pounds worth of contraband in a sharp action near Lough Heede. Lt Col Simon Templar distinguished himself in the fighting by capturing the cannon he had lost last season. Although both men were mentioned in dispatches, Templar's indiscreet behaviour after the battle may bring the attention of the Provost Marshal. (Oddly enough, Templar was seen rummaging through some old account books in the Provost's office before going on campaign.)

Terrible indeed are the secrets of the seas. And almost as terrible are the secrets of the Admiralty, so little of what you read here or elsewhere is official. But the arrival of a fleet of ships in the Nore cannot be hidden. Nor can it be hidden when the commander of the fleet, his hair turned suddenly white at sea, is dragged, kicking and screaming, into a closed carriage, which takes him, not to the Admiralty, but to Greenwich Naval Hospital.

So far, only officers have been allowed off the ships, which are guarded by Royal Marines. Many priests, doctors and casks of liquor have been brought aboard. One officer, much the worse for drink in an East End tavern, was heard telling a strange yarn to the effect that Cdre Weathers' fleet was attacked by "either one grotesque sea monster or all the snakes in Hell" According to the account, crewmen touched by the "snakes" went mad, although they were otherwise unharmed.

NAVAL NOTES: Lord Burke cannot be pleased with his new command, Spain's Snare Andalusian, after noticing the initials "MC" and the date 1571 carved into a bulkhead...Burke's subordinate, Ens Bones, has taken to the sea well, having thoroughly cleansed the crew of assorted "sailor's complaints". Too bad first landfall is at Port-au-Prince...HMS Flaming Sword was one of several frigates prowling the Irish Sea for contraband and the odd fishing boat. Still, it was a good "shakedown cruise" for Capt. Hornblower before the Channel exercises in October.

Still unlucky at love is the musclebound Nick O'Tyme, courting Dame Frances Fairfax (whose beau Simon Templar may come after O'Tyme with a cannon) and then Lady Emily Egbert before switching his attentions to no less than Lady Barbara Billingsgate, daughter of the Earl of Bridgewater. After a month of this, the Bridgewater butler, Mittons, told "the Irish person" that the dogs would be set upon him if he returned. Trying to drown his sorrows at the Nonpareil Club, O'Tyme was refused entry. He vented his frustration by ripping down the club's heavy oak doors and burning them in the fireplace.

LEGAL NOTES: Patrick Fogger left Judge de Fuer's chambers upon being made a junior barrister. Fogger has taken a room in the chambers of the firm of Tolland, Tanner, Young & Lovelace. From Fogger's lectures at Middle Temple, we can say he is an informative, albeit tedious speaker...Law student Byron Bismarck fell asleep on four occasions...This Fall, Inner Temple will offer courses in excise law.

ADVT.: The Fleet Street Theatre offers nostalgia, with a retrospective of works by the late William Shakespeare. Sept: All's Well That Ends Well. Oct: Richard II. Nov: King Lear.

Fugitive financier Arthur Maldonado is still at large. Where is he? Who knows? Banana knows.

A historical note as far as the game is concerned: The last of the original characters in this PBM game of En Garde! has at long last retired. M. Lafayette has been Earl Whiskeyman's character from the beginning of the game and has raised himself through much effort from a lowly private in the Royal Foot Guard to Field Marshall, Minister of State, Grand Duke and Pretender to the Throne. Earl has chosen to drop out of the game for a while. We (the Royal we) are sad to see him depart but look forward to a time that he might again join us.

THE GOSSIPS PARISIENNE

Longtime Paris resident, former Minister of State, Pretender to the Throne, Grand Duke Etienne Lafayette has married his mistress, Mlle Elise, and moved to a little spot he recently purchased in the country, Aquitaine. Before leaving Paris he is said to have invested heavily, along with Messrs. LeMoyne and Poisson, in a new Club named the Mediterrinee.

The club is said to be opening the first week of December. Club owners say that any one may invest in the club. 5000 cr. will return an annual dividend and permanently reserve a table in the first ring.

Notable men-about-town include Messrs. Baccarat, de Fer, dePeasant and Lapin, all of whom achieved the maximum in social advancement this season. All now look forward to Mardi Gras in the first two weeks in Feb. All are cordially invited to a Christmas Party in honor of M. le Cardinal, le Duc Richelieu, at the home of M. Pierre Lapin. Special dances will be taught by the hostess Mlle. Isabelle. R.S.V.P.

ECONOMIC NEWS

The Nation (GP): Baron de Fer, Chancellor of the Exchequer, has announced that due to mismanagement by former holders of the office, the treasury is in terrible shape and an increase in taxes is essential to return the National coffers to their former state of balance. Unfortunately for the Baron, immediately after signing the order to increase taxes, he was arrested by the Commissioner of Public Safety on the charge of embezzlement. He will face trial before the Honorable Justice Aveugle on the first of December. Rumors are flying that the Commissioner was acting at the behest of another as yet unknown member of the government. Meanwhile, in the northern provinces where most of the Protestant rebels reside, the Provincial Military Governor, Baron d'Isle has taken the taxation order to heart and has doubled the tax increase for his district. Disgruntled landowners have vowed to fight tax levy. Outspoken Huguenot leader Jean Paeslet, said, "The pikes must be together at the rising of the moon." Our astronomers tell us that the new moon will be rising in the first week of December.

WAR NEWS

The Front (GP): The Marquis Reynard led the Guards Brigade and a Frontier regiment in a siege of the last known Huguenot rebel stronghold and utterly razed the city. He has been promoted to Bvt. Lieutenant General and will be awarded the title of Earl when he returns from the field. Despite a very poor showing by the frontier regiments, the town was sacked and burned. Two members of the Dragoon Guards were present though fighting for other regiments. C.R. O'Magnon was promoted to the Colonelcy of the Dragoon Guards when "Battling" Etienne Gerard stopped a sniper's bullet while leading the Royal North Highland Border Regiment in a defensive action along the southern borders. Colonel Gerard was well known for his frequent campaigns against the enemies of France. Other prominent members of society to see action were General Calais who has been promoted to Bvt. Lt. General after being mentioned in dispatches, Lt. Colonel Grenouille and newly commissioned Maj. Niccolo Vendetta of the Royal Foot Guards both of whom served faithfully if without distinction.

SOCIAL NEWS

Paris (GP): There was turmoil inside and out at the meeting hall of the Cardinal's Party this season.

With the Cardinal's Party in power, all seemed to be going well but apparently a small group of the King's Musketeers, including a certain M. Rostov aided by notorious troublemakers Messrs. Athos, Porthos and Aramis, substituted themselves for the Cardinal's Escort and carriage drivers and took the bewildered Cardinal, in great pomp and circumstance, to the Bordello Bordeaux where the Cardinal was entertained for the entire evening. The meeting of the Party was delayed when the Cardinal did not appear to bless the proceedings and, when it finally resumed there was a bitterly fought election for President. M. d'Isle won in a close ballot. His challenger, party newcomer, Pierre Lapin, was heard to say, "Why was d'Isle even here today and where is that damned O'Magnon, I paid good money for his vote?"
